We deliver natural diversity

Up to 30% of a harvest
is sorted out!

Due to aesthetic specificities, up to 30% of a harvest is sorted out. We want to put an end to this obsession with beauty because crooked fruits and vegetables are as tasty and healthy as any other!

Our goals:

With your help, we can make unusual looking fruits and vegetables more accepted and appreciated again in order to reduce food waste.

Your benefits

Your company is supplied by us with high quality organic foods for reduced prices.

Besides having a cost benefit when buying organic fruits and vegetables, you contribute actively to reducing food waste. Thereby you create a unique selling point and give customers further purchasing incentive.

From posters to information flyers:

Next to our unique products, we will provide you with different posters and campaign materials if you wish. More information about our material can be found on our website: www.querfeld.bio

Contact us to receive our offer with crooked cucumbers, heart-shaped potatoes and gigantic beetroot.
